

this effort to curb info is nothing short of despicable. i practice law. can i get legislation to prevent others from practicing it also?? after all, others impinge upon my earnings by offering competition - why should the NAB be the only group without competition???